Our objective in designing this page was to create a cinematic experience for the users from beginning to end. We have incorporated elements of cinema, such as screen marks, to give users the impression of watching an actual movie.

The color scheme, consisting of red, black, and white, is reminiscent of theaters, and helps to recreate the feeling of being in an actual cinema. Furthermore, the layout is simple yet dynamic, allowing for the importance of each image or movie to be highlighted without any compromise.
